Robb and Kathy's individual musical history dates back to their grade school years in the Milwaukee area. In 1972 their guitar playing and singing brought them together on weekends, performing with bands in local venues and around the state of Wisconsin.

Two years later they were married, continuing to perform music of all styles - from classic rock and oldies, to country and standards - as they raised their three children in Muskego, Wisconsin.

From 1988 to 1997 they performed as a duo, replacing live musicians with a computer. Robb programmed all the instruments and the lighting system to accompany the couple's guitars and voices.

In January of 1997 - as their last child was preparing to complete his Christian high school education - a decision was made for Robb and Kathy to retire from music. Most of their musical equipment was sold, including the recording studio they had built in their basement. They held on to two guitars, a keyboard and guitar amplifier for possible future use.

It was not until 10 years later - when the two retired from their teaching careers - that those instruments were used again. This time they would not play secular music, but Christian music, old and new.

In the fall of 2007, the couple fulfilled a dream of becoming full-time RVer's to travel and see the country. Months went by before they realized they were not just on a sightseeing trip, but they were being led into a traveling music ministry, playing at campgrounds, church services, assisted living communities and nursing homes.

Robb and Kathy say God has provided for their spiritual and earthly needs abundantly on the road, "Our call is to joyfully edify believers. In turn, those we sing for end up being a huge blessing to us." They continue, "God has also provided all we need to record high-quality CDs that we sell as we travel. He has been so good to us!"

The two believe that they are living testimonies of Proverbs 16:9, "A man's mind plans his way, but the Lord directs his steps and makes them sure." You see, Robb and Kathy's plans were to retire but God directed them to be re-fired for Him!
